President's Message

Hello everyone. I hope you all have had a Merry Christmas and that 2014 brings you all the good health and joy you deserve. Since this is my last President's message I can print whatever I like. Since I'm doing this before Christmas I have to think of when you are reading this which is after New Years and I hope you are starting to sober up by now. I don't know yet who the new President is but I wish him or her all the best in their new job. By now I am the past Pres. and I find as I get older I get passed more than in the past. I don't mind that as long as I don't get passed by when the turkey is being passed around although the turkey wishes he had been passed over this year. But all that is in the past now. Enough of this nonsense now.

Congratulations to Calvin Schmidt on the award from the Silo Builders Association for 50 years in the business.

The past 2 years as President have been enjoyable and interesting and I hope it was good for you too. I look forward to sitting back and letting someone else worry about the little things. I'm reminded of a saying: "If you see an old man break something and then he starts to smile, you know he has thought of somebody else to blame for it". The executive members have been a good group to work with and I thank them for putting up with me. Thanks to Bill and Leah for their work over the years as Newsletter Editor and Treasurer for the club. Also thanks to Kirk for stepping up to do the Secretary's job and continuing to do it next year. Also thanks to Murray and Marg for looking after the Promotions all these years and taking them to shows to sell.

Till I see you at the next meeting, take care.

Ray

Condolences

The Club extends our sincere sympathy to the family of member Art Meadows who passed away on October 27, 2013.

Introduction of Newsletter Editor – Curtis Marshall

I would like to take this opportunity to introduce myself to the membership as the new "Newsletter Editor". I was born and raised on a dairy farm in Erin Township (Wellington County). My grandfather used Allis-Chalmers equipment in the 50's & 60's including a WD45, a Roto-Baler, an All-Crop 90, and a D15. In 2010 I was able to re-acquire our WD45 (thanks to Jim Sparks of Erin) and have been slowly restoring it. I look forward to serving the club as Newsletter Editor and welcome any suggestions in regards to the newsletter.

My Winter Project – 616H

By: Curtis Marshall

This old mower followed me home several months ago even though I wasn't really looking to collect lawn and garden equipment. After looking at it for several weeks I decided I couldn't pass it up and had to save it. It was purchased "as is" in non-running condition.

I have started doing some research on the tractor and so far have been able to determine that it was manufactured in 1983/1984 based on the serial number. I came across an excellent website: www.simpletractors.com hosted by the Simplicity and Allis-Chalmers Garden Tractor Club in the United States. The website appears to be an excellent resource on Simplicity and Allis-Chalmers lawn and garden equipment and includes a discussion board for asking questions. Some club members may already be familiar with the site.

The original dealer sticker is still visible. It appears that this tractor was purchased locally at Swanston Farm Equipment (now Connect Equipment) near Rockwood, Ontario.

In 1974 Allis-Chalmers introduced the 600, 700 and 800 series of lawn tractors in an all-orange colour scheme to match the larger agricultural tractors. These models were manufactured by Simplicity Manufacturing Company for Allis-Chalmers. The 616 was available with hydrostatic drive (H model) or a standard transmission (LTD model).

Simplicity was originally founded by William J. Niederkorn in 1922, and started building riding garden tractors in 1939. Allis-Chalmers purchased Simplicity in 1965 and owned the company until 1983. Simplicity continued to manufacture lawn mowers for Deutz-Allis, AGCO-Allis and AGCO. In 2004 Simplicity was purchased by Briggs and Stratton.

Source:
<http://simpletractors.com/Main/history.htm>

The lawn tractor appears to be basically complete other than a missing grass deflector chute. After some tinkering and a tune up, the 16 hp Briggs and Stratton twin cylinder engine fired up and sounds pretty good. I am still trying to free up the stuck choke cable. I have yet to test the hydrostatic drive and mower deck (42 inch). I plan on changing the hydrostatic fluid and servicing the mower deck as needed.

If all goes well, I may even sell my newer John Deere lawn mower (I didn't buy it on purpose as it came with house) and use it to cut my lawn. Unfortunately my 5 year old son may be sad if I sell the newer mower as he is a big John Deere fan. I told him that I got the old Allis mower for him and he asked "Are you going to paint it green for me Dad?". The John Deere propoganda advertising machine (kids toys, clothes, books and movies) has succesfully infected my son. As a consolation I can sometimes get my son to agree that Allis-Chalmers is his second favourite tractor. He did ask me the other day if we could "save Allis Chalmers". I asked him how and he said "we should tell the police and the mayor to save Allis-Chalmers".

A 1984 (+) Deutz Allis 616H model in green paint. The 616 was produced for a number of years as a Deutz Allis. A range of accessories were also available including: various rear baggers and vacuums, tillers, front blades, a dethatcher, and snow blowers. I assume that similar attachments were available for the earlier Allis-Chalmers models.

It should be noted that In the early 1970's Allis-Chalmers made a heavier 600 series "compact tractor" including a 616 model. These tractors were similar looking to the One-Ninety farm tractor. The heavier duty 616 should not be confused with the lighter duty 616H "lawn tractor".

I am looking at purchasing an operator's manual and a sales brochure off of ebay (Internet Auction Site) and would be glad to speak to anyone else who has more information on this model of lawn tractor.

Half Century of Progress by Calvin Schmidt

In August, two friends and I attended the 'Half Century of Progress' at the former air force base in Rantoul, Illinois. The 1500 acre airport is closed for the four days of the show. This show is held every two years and includes a little over 400 acres of corn and soybeans on airport grounds that are harvested during the show, as well as corn stocks chopped, and the ground plowed all with vintage equipment. Most Brand clubs have a display area including Allis-Chalmers which highlighted the 50 years of D-21's. It is a must see show if you like vintage equipment.

Mark Hacker (Michigan), myself, Ross Dryden, and Ray Levasseur displaying our new temporary A-C tattoos applied in the A-C tent.

Feature tractor was a Rite-Way 750 powered by a Detroit 12V71 TT that had been tuned up to 850 hp. It plowed with a 15 furrow plow.
